

My Life in Visp(Switzerland)

---Timon Zhang

Blue sky is always behind your house(Visp)

Food: Though the population in Visp is only about 6,000, the infrastructure here is comprehensive. There are three supermarkets, Coop, Migros and Denner, you can get various foods you want even something like Tofu. Different tastes of restaurants are available like Thailand's, Chinese and Italian, etc.

Accommodation: Lonza offered a flat with a living room, a bed room, a kitchen and a toilet with simple furniture for me. That make me feel at home here.

Transportation: The public transportation in Switzerland is advanced. I can reach any city by train. There are also auto-buses in every districts, I can reach every village by them.

Lifting earth seems impossible, but I did it.

Mountain, snow, greens and clean water etc. every thing here is amazing.

That was my impression when I came to the country first time in April 2010. Two months elapsed, more and more interesting things I have discovered. I found Switzerland is not only a good place for working, but also a perfect place for living.

Clothing: Compare to Chinese formal clothing, you will find more casual clothes are worn here. Keeping up with Joneses does not exist here.

Castle in Brig, 6 minutes from Visp

The transportation in Switzerland is on time, I can schedule every minutes when I travel around Switzerland.

Though transportation fare is not cheap, I can borrow general abonement (GA) card from Lonza if I am lucky enough. With GA card, I can travel around Switzerland on the weekend for free.

Bad things: Oh, yes, there are some bad things. No boiled drinking water is available everywhere. Noise happens occasionally due to motor cycle. My bed is not big enough to turn over; The sofa is not big enough to lie down.
